General Resources

- Academic Jobs Wiki: http://academicjobs.wikia.com/. Extensive lists of jobs and postdocs, along with gossip about positions
- Career Services at Princeton: https://careerservices.princeton.edu/graduate-students. Workshops on the job search, interviewing, and transitioning to non-academic jobs; consulting for the CV and interview prep (i.e., mock interviews).
- Princeton McGraw Center for Teaching and Learning: http://www.princeton.edu/mcgraw/. Workshops, seminars, one-on-one meetings with career counselors. Especially helpful is the year-long Teagle Teaching Seminar, which offers opportunities to work on course design, the teaching statement, etc. (http://www.princeton.edu/mcgraw/gs/teaching-seminar/)
- Books on job search advice (e.g. Kathryn Hume, Surviving Your Academic Job Hunt: Advice for Humanities PhDs).
- American Historical Association Perspectives (http://www.historians.org/publications-and-directories/perspectives-on-history/search-past-issues) frequently has articles on applying for jobs and interviewing.
